GEORGETOWN AND GEORGE WASHINGTON BURY HATCHET

Athletic Relations Resumed With Local University.

GAMES ALREADY ARRANGED

Georgetown and George Washington Universities are on the verge of a renewal of athletic relations. Negotiations are now pending for a series of basketball games between representatives of the two institutions, which are certain to materialize.

According to our best information, advances have been made by W. F. Hutton, basketball manager at Georgetown, which were welcomed by Pat Murray, who is our manager. Professor McNemar has given his consent to the scheme, and Charlie Cox, graduate manager at Georgetown, said Saturday that he was heartily in favor of any action that will bring about a repetition of the stirring athletic conflicts that featured the local card some years back.

Within the course of a couple of weeks the basketball dates will probably be definitely settled, and from all indications they will bring the teams together in engagements toward the end of the basketball season, the latter part of January or February. Georgetown has already issued a call for candidates, and outdoor work under Coach O'Reilly started last Monday. Our own team will start practice probably next week under the coaching of "Schlitz" Schlosser.

The listing of basketball games will be supplemented by competition in other lines, baseball in the spring and football next fall. Representatives of the Blue and Gray will also enter our track meet in February.

A series of basketball games has already been arranged with the Catholic University.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY TO MEET

Wednesday, October 21, the Date of the Opening Meeting of the Season.

The first meeting of the George Washington University Chemical Society will be held on Wednesday, October 21, 1914, at the Medical Building, 1325 H Street. Dean Munroe will be present and will give a short talk to the members on a subject of vital interest to students of chemistry. There will also be short talks by some of the old members. An interesting, instructive, and enjoyable time is assured to all who attend.

The Society welcomes all students who are pursuing courses in chemistry or are interested in that science. A number of papers will be read at the meetings this year on topics of interest to the whole student body. Dr. Monroe is the honorary president of the Society, while John Brockwell, '15, is the active president. Mr. Brockwell is a very energetic and enthusiastic student in Chemistry. He is spending a great amount of time in preparing an excellent program of events for the coming year in the line of trips through the plants of local chemical industries and other places of interest.

The freshman students in chemistry can do nothing better for their advancement in these lines than to attend the first meeting of the Chemical Society and to become acquainted with this ambitious group of students, all of whom are interested in the profession of chemistry. If you want to have a good time, come out to the first meeting and get acquainted. A hearty welcome is assured you.

FRESHMEN! ATTENTION!

The first meeting of the Freshman Class of the Department of Arts and Sciences will be held Monday, October 19, 1914, in the Assembly Hall of the Department of Arts and Sciences, 2023 G Street. The meeting will be called to order at 7:45 sharp. The Junior Class will be in charge. The Freshmen will please take notice and be in prompt attendance.

UNIVERSITY TRUSTEE HONORED

High Tribute Paid by Bench and Bar To Colonel Archibald Hopkins.

RETIRES AFTER LONG CAREER

At a meeting of bench, bar and officials of the United States Court of Claims held in the court room recently, high tribute was paid to the personality and services of Colonel Archibald Hopkins, one of the University trustees, whose resignation as clerk of the Court of Claims has just become effective. Colonel Hopkins' resignation was announced by Chief Justice Edward K. Campbell, who, speaking for the court and the persons connected with it, expressed the sincere respect and well wishes of all the retiring clerks and associates.

Justice Campbell's tribute included a brief sketch of Colonel Hopkins' life, his military services, and his connection with the Court of Claims which extended over a period of forty-one years. The tribute of the Chief Justice was ordered to be made a part of the official records of the Court of Claims.

Others who paid tribute to the services of Colonel Hopkins were Benjamin Carter, John G. Capers, William B. King, and John W. Trainer. Resolutions of regret at Colonel Hopkins' retirement were presented by the members of the bar of the Court of Claims and in behalf of clerks and employees of the court, the latter being read by Assistant Clerk John Randolph. Colonel Hopkins has been a trustee of the University since 1910.

Fraternities and Societies.

Every fraternity and every other organization of the University, including the class organizations, should appoint some one immediately to keep the HATCHET staff informed as to the events and other news of these organizations. The HATCHET reporters cannot get around to all the fraternities and societies, a fact which makes it imperative that we get the news from you directly. All news to insure publication in any week, must be in the HATCHET office not later than Monday morning. Please have these officers appointed at once if they have not already been selected.

DOCTOR'S DEGREE TO BE CONFERRED

Charles H. T. Townsend To Receive Ph. D.

SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS THESIS

On Monday, October 12, the twenty-seventh doctorate disputation was held under the direction of the Faculty of Graduate Studies in the Assembly Hall of the Department of Arts and Sciences. Charles Henry Tyler Townsend, B. S., 1908, the George Washington University, successfully defended his thesis before L. O. Howard, M. D., Ph. D., LL.D., Chief of the Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture; C. L. Marlatt, B. S., M. S., Assistant Chief of the Bureau of Entomology; and A. D. Hopkins, Ph. D., Entomological Assistant in charge of Forest Insect Investigations, of the Bureau of Entomology. The title of the thesis was as follows:

THESIS: Contribution to a Thorough Knowledge of the Muscoid Flies: On the female-reproductive and early stage characters as indicating phylogeny and a basis for taxonomy, together with a consideration of host relations, general bionomics and distribution.

The disputation was presided over by Paul Bartsch, M. S., Ph. D., Professor of Zoology.

Mr. Townsend has recently returned from Peru, where he went after his graduation from the University in 1908. There, as the Government Entomologist of Peru, he established an entomological service for that country and made valuable researches and discoveries in the origin and cause of certain endemic diseases which have been particularly disastrous.

The board of experts in their decision declared the thesis to be a distinct and valuable contribution to scientific knowledge and praised it as being indicative of painstaking research work.

Election of Officers and Discussion of Entertainment of Freshmen To Be the Order of Business.

The first of the Sophomore Class of the Department of Arts and Sciences will be held tonight at 7:00 p. m. in the Assembly Hall at 2023 G Street. The meeting has been called by the Vice-president of the class, Miss Theodosia D. Seibold. ENGINEERING SOCIETY NOMINATES

G. A. Degenhardt and L. M. Heron Candidates for President.

NEXT MEETING OCTOBER 21

The Engineering Society held its first meeting on Saturday evening, October tenth, in the Physics Lecture room. The following were nominated for officers for the ensuing year: President, George A. Degenhardt, Louis M. Herron, F. A. Woodward; Civil Engineering Vice-President, Leonard J. Rose, O. G. Magruder; Electrical Engineering Vice-President, Samuel W. Mason, Arnold A. Brand; Mechanical Engineering Vice President, William S. James; Secretary, McClain B. Smith, Frederick Deck; C. F. Blakely; Treasurer, Odver H. Miller, Macfarland Hale, H. K. Cochran; Member of the Executive Committee, R. C. Doyle.

The Engineering Society forms practically the only common meeting place for all engineering students. The only requirement for membership is that the student shall be registered in the College of Engineering. The dues are normal, ten cents per month.

During the past years, many pleasant gatherings have been held, among which was the annual visit to the Bureau of Standards, affording the student a splendid opportunity to inspect this unique plant under most favorable circumstances. Many social meetings have been held, where the principal order of business has been to get better acquainted. Probably the banner meeting last year was the trip to Indian Head Proving Ground, the Society being the guests of Uncle Sam for the entire day, and a splendid chance to see the testing grounds, the powder works, etc., being afforded those who went on the trip. We mention these instances simply to bring before the engineering students what they are missing if they don't enroll themselves in this society.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday evening, October 21, at 6:45 p. m., in the Physics Lecture Room. The principal business will be the election of officers.

prevention, social insurance and labor bibliography; sets of labor, factory, and mine inspection reports, both foreign and domestic; and trade union journals and labor papers from all over the country.

Our library is located in Room 519, Mills Building, the present home of the Department of Labor. Every facility at our command will be placed at your disposal.

I am,
Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) ROYAL MEEKER,
Commissioner of Labor Statistics.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TO ORGANIZE

Terry Appointed Financial Secretary And Bixler Assistant Financial Secretary.

FIRST MEETING NOVEMBER 11

There is going to be a complete reorganization of athletics in the University this year. Everything is to be put on a sound business basis. Prof. McNemar, the faculty director of athletics, has stated that a meeting will be called on Wednesday, November 11, 1914, for the purpose of organizing the Athletic Association. Everyone who has a blank showing that he has signified his willingness to purchase a season ticket to the basketball games, will be admitted to the meeting, and will be entitled to vote in electing the officers and adopting a constitution and by-laws. This blank will be an evidence of his good faith, but should it so happen that after the organization is completed he does not finally buy the ticket, his membership will immediately cease. It is necessary to have some basis on which to decide a student's right to take part in the meeting, and this appears to be the most logical one for the present. Therefore, no student who does not have one of these slips will be admitted to the meeting.

As stated in last week's Hatchet, the season ticket will be two dollars, and that will admit the holder to six basketball games, the track meet, and entitle him to membership in the Athletic Association. All athletics will be in charge of the Association, and the faculty director, and membership in it will mean a great deal to the student. Other Universities charge many times this sum for membership in their athletic associations, but in order to give an added inducement to the student to buy a season ticket, membership in the association has been included.

This first meeting will be exceedingly important. The Athletic Association represents the entire student body in so far as athletics are concerned, and consequently, every student should have a vital interest in the work of the Association. This work will be outlined at the initial meeting on November 11; officers will be elected, and a constitution and by-laws adopted, or at least those of the old Association amended to meet the changed conditions. With all this business to transact, it will be necessary to have large attendance, representing all departments in the University. The Faculty Director urges every student to subscribe for a season ticket before this meeting, so that he will be eligible to take part. It will be to his own interest to do so, for the athletics of the University will be conducted for the benefit of all, and if the student is at all interested, and every one is, he should manifest his interest by subscribing for one of these tickets.

The campaign for the sale of these tickets has been started with a rush. The Faculty Director has appointed Leo C. Terry as Financial Secretary, and John S. Bixler as Assistant Financial Secretary. These two men will help in directing the campaign, and will have direct charge of distributing the subscription books among the students.

Terry is a Senior in Columbian College, was last year President of the Junior Class, and is a member of the Alpha Beta Phi Fraternity. He was President of the Glee Club last year, and has always shown an active interest in student affairs.

Entered as second-class mail matter at the Washington, D. C. Post Office, October 27 1911.

Friday, October 16, 1914.

By the time this HATCHET is delivered, each man in the University will probably have been approached by one of the envoys of Professor McNemar with an opportunity for joining the Athletic Association and getting a season ticket to the athletic events of the year. If you have not been so approached or if you have not yet invested in this branch of student activities, get in touch with your nearest agent in this cause and get your ticket immediately. Now is the time to show your University spirit. Now is the time to come forward and help to promote athletics, which means so much for the name and fame of the school.

We can remember only a few short years ago when George Washington University held the championship of the South in football. Now we are gradually recovering our former position in the athletic world. This year we have a good basketball team and probably we shall have a baseball team. Next year there is scarcely any doubt that we shall have a football team, if the athletic activities this year are properly supported. The track team is a reality for this year. Get your pledge signed immediately so that the leaders in the movement can get a line on what to expect.

The resumption of athletic relations with Georgetown University argues well for the continuance and growth of athletics at George Washington. Ever since the unfortunate circumstances which caused the breach of relations with Georgetown, our athletic advancement has suffered to a certain extent. The reestablishment of friendly relations is welcomed by all as a good omen. As stated in another column of the HATCHET, it is expected now that a series of basketball games will be arranged between the two Universities. This will undoubtedly be a drawing card, and will be one of the biggest events in the athletic year of Washington City.

The merchants and business men of this city and our out of town advertisers deserve, and should have some consideration from the students of the University. It is the advertisers who make the publishing of this paper possible. Many of the students and faculty have been and are exceedingly indifferent to the welfare of the paper—why, the management has never been able to find out. Therefore, the men who consistently decline to spend a dollar for the year's subscription to the Hatchet might at least make it a point to take their patronage to those who are apparently more interested in the University and its institutions than themselves.

Furthermore, our advertisers are among the best and most reputable companies in their own lines and we assure our readers that they will make no mistake in buying their goods of them.

Outing Club Completes Plans

Many Interesting Hikes To Be Taken.

On last Friday, October 9, 1914, an enthusiastic group of women students held a meeting in the Assembly Hall and fully organized the Outing Club. The object of the Club is to encourage an interest in outdoor life, to promote good-fellowship and to make the members familiar with the beautiful country around Washington. Almost every girl in the University has joined and we hope that the others will soon do so. There are no dues and every woman student is eligible. For the present the hikes will be on Thursdays and later on Saturdays. The first Thursday walk was planned for yesterday, leaving the College at twelve-thirty p. m. and returning in time for five o'clock classes. It is in charge of a Senior Committee, composed of Flora Hull, Frederika Neumann and Anna Washington Craton.

Each week, three girls from the classes will conduct the hike, selecting the locality and planning the afternoon's enjoyment. The fall weather does not last long, and we urge the girls to make the most of it. During the winter, the plan is to have a hike as often as the open weather permits.

The organization committee has planned a number of interesting excursions, among them being the following: an exploration of Difficult Run, near Great Falls, Virginia, a vicinity considered the wildest and most picturesque around Washington; a paper chase from Forest Glen, Maryland, to Chevy Chase Circle; a walk up the tow-path of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, returning on a canal boat; and a hike in Virginia across Chain Bridge. Besides these announced trips, there are a number of others that are being kept secret, which will be sprung as surprises later in the year.

Another plan is for a moonlight walk at Halloween, and another one before that date. Members of the faculty will be invited to participate in these hikes, if they are interested in walking and like a supper cooked over a campfire.

The girls are famous cooks and can guarantee coffee, cocoa, bacon, "hot dogs", eggs, potatoes, corn and marshmallows as thoroughly successful. Moreover, they can make a fire which is reputed to be able to burn. If you are a lady student of the University and have not as yet joined, please do so at once in order not to miss the hikes in this delightful weather. The Outing Club offers to the new girls in particular a chance to become acquainted with the older students of the University and more important still to know the girls of their own class. No better opportunity could be offered for learning to know the girls than upon such excursions. The class officers are: Senior, Frederika Neuman; Junior, Gladys Helgesen; Sophomore, Theodosia Seibold; Freshman, Lina Fergusson and Eleanor Stanton.

Bixler is a Sophomore in Columbian College. He has been actively engaged in work on the business end of the Hatchet this year and has a lively interest in the welfare of the University.

Representatives have already been secured for several organizations, but many more are needed, and it is hoped that a considerable number of students will offer their services. Remember, a commission is paid on every sale, and if you want to earn a ticket for yourself, come around to Room 7, Department of Arts and Sciences, and get one of the subscription books. Every coupon you dispose of will secure another member for the Athletic Association, and it will help a great deal toward insuring a large and representative attendance at the first meeting of the Association. But, whether or not you feel like selling these coupons secure one, and be present at the meeting. You do not need to pay any money until December first, and this coupon will admit you to all meetings of the Athletic Association until that time.

You win $500 by writing the best Fatima ad.

We believe the College Man who smokes Fatima ought to be able to write a good Fatima ad. He knows from experience that Fatima is of satisfying excellence—that for its superlative quality it is moderately priced. He of all Fatima smokers, should be able to write of Fatima convincingly.

So we are going to pay $500 to the student who prepares and sends to us the best original advertisement for Fatima Cigarettes before June 1, 1915.

Any student of any college may compete for this $500

There are no restrictions, whatever, no strings of any kind on this offer, other than this—every contestant must be a regularly enrolled student in an American College. We want a student—not a professional ad writer—to benefit from this offer.

Three prominent business men, whose names will be announced later, will act as judges.

$5 for every ad published $500 for the best one submitted

The $500 will be awarded June 1, 1915. In the meantime, some of the ads submitted will be published each month in college publications, together with the name and photograph of the writer—provided the writer will give permission for such publication.

For each ad so published we will pay the writer $5. But, the publication of any ad must not be taken to signify that it stands any better chance to win the $500 than the ads that are not published.

Those who try to earn this $500 should remember that the supreme test of any advertisement is its selling power. Whether your ad consists of only ten words—or runs to a thousand—it should be interesting, truthful, convincing—it should give to the reader the buying impulse. To write such advertisements, that will pass the test of performance, the writer must believe in the product he is writing about.

CHEMISTRY PROFESSOR HAS THRILLING EXPERIENCES

Dr. Nevil M. Hopkins Home From Abroad After Many Narrow Escapes.

After serving for a month with the French Red Cross in the retreat from Mons to Senlis, Dr. Nevil Monroe Hopkins, a professor in Chemistry in the University has returned to his home on Bancroft Place. During the time that he was abroad, he was arrested by the Germans seventeen times.

Dr. Hopkins was in Moscow, Russia, with his family when the war broke out. He volunteered in the Red Cross division of the French army and went to the front August 24. He returned to New York last week on the Kroonland from Liverpool.

As a trophy of his war experience he brought back with him a lance belonging to the German Death's Head Hussars with its stained black and white pennant, and said that he got it from a Belgian non-commissioned officer whom he saw shoot down the hussar and take the lance from his grasp.

The last time he was arrested the Germans took away his papers and, seeing that he was described as an engineer, forced him to repair an automobile truck, before they would let him go.

He gives a vivid description of the battle of Mons.

"I was first under fire while I had the head of a wounded French soldier on my lap dressing a gaping wound in his jaw," said Dr. Hopkins. "Shrapnel burst overhead, but none of the missiles hit either of us. For an hour after that I was under fire and the noise and the sights of the battlefield almost resulted in my complete physical collapse. I saw hundreds of men torn to pieces in a few seconds. Horses were wiped from sight by the terrific artillery fire of the Germans and wagons containing ammunition, and provisions were blown into fragments.

"It was like the work of an unseen hand. I could see the ranks filled one moment and in the next a gaping hole had been torn out and fifty men had disappeared.

At Cambrai after the battle the French and English officers estimated that there were 4,000 men dead upon the field. The Germans collected piles of wood on which they poured kerosene, and then placed the bodies on the pile to burn them. The allies buried their dead in the trenches."

"Is it true that wounded men are left on the field?" he was asked. "Yes," he replied, "it is impossible to take them all away. After the action the first aid party goes around to dress the wounds with iodine, and those that are likely to recover are carried away to the hospitals. The men who are hopelessly maimed are left, and they often commit suicide to end their agony. In fact, it is frequently suggested to them to do so.

"At Le Cateau the French made a stand against the Germans with a masked battery which the enemy could not spy out with the aeroplanes because the wind was too brisk for them to go up. When the French artillery opened fire the slaughter was terrible. Riderless horses galloped in all directions and the dead lay in heaps.

"The French artillery fire was magnificent. The guns swept everything before them. At Cambrai I saw the English dragoon guards support the infantry and recapture some guns belonging to the French artillery. The riding was perfect. The men seemed to be a part of the horses, they sat in the saddle so well. As the guns were taken the numbers were called out, and the French artillerymen galloped up and wheeled away at a gallop.

"Nothing can describe what a battlefield is like under such conditions. The dead bodies of men and horses lie everywhere, piled on top of each other. The noise is so great that it is impossible to make yourself heard even if you should shout at the top of your lungs into a man's ear. The only way to communicate is by signs. "I witnessed one charge of the Death's Head Hussars. They were gallant and daring riders, but scores of them were shot from their horses."

FORMER STUDENT IN
GO-TO-CHURCH FIELD

Harold Keats, Former Editor of The Hatchet, Engaged in Promoting Church Attendance.

The students of the University will be much interested to learn of the activities of Harold Keats, former editor of the Hatchet. In company with E. Marshall Nichols of this city, he has travelled down the Ohio River in a canoe, organizing "Go-to-church" campaigns in each town and city on the river and obtaining pledges from the leading men of the towns to attend church at least four Sundays in succession. Up to a few weeks ago, they had succeeded in getting 10,000 such pledges in visits to more than forty towns.

The following clipping is from the Commercial Tribune of Cincinnati:

Keats and Nichols are on an expedition from Pittsburg to New Orleans in a canoe. They are stopping at every town along the line, making speeches before any gathering of people they can find, in theaters, on street corners, in dance halls, cafes and in fact, wherever there are men and women there they talk, getting pledges from the people to go to church. Yesterday they hit Coney Island. There they found thousands ready to listen. They gave their talks, explained how they were from Washington and were on a down-the-river canoe expedition, seeking church goers who are now stay-at-homes.

They got the pledges of 3,000 people, yesterday to attend church for four Sundays, somewhere, it mattered not. Behind these enthusiastic young men are 300 business and professional men of Washington. There they increased the church goers 61 per cent. in a short time and now head a national movement to get people out of their lethargy and on the way to church, as the folks used to do when "grandpa" was a boy.

They say that when they return to Washington they expect to start a still larger movement, with more men in the field, to secure pledges from the people to go to church. Only once have they slept indoors since they left Pittsburg. They paddle down the Ohio in a canoe with their camp outfit and prepare their meals on the banks of the river. Not finding a place where they could pitch their camp they accepted the hospitality of the Y. M. C. A. until they leave tomorrow.

The following is from the Louisville Herald:

Harold Keats and E. Marshall Nichols who are in Louisville for the purpose of arousing local interest in the National "Go-to-Church-Sunday", visited the State Fair Grounds yesterday, where they interviewed fair officials, Gov. McCreary, the Suffrage Executive Committee, and many others.

TEN ONE F STREET CORNER TENTH

TO OUR FELLOW ALUMNI:

If you think of taking a Course at a Business College in Shorthand, Typewriting, Business or Civil Service, consult Mr. Frank Fuller, our Principal, who is an A. B. and Alumnus of George Washington University. He will advise you as a Fellow Alumni as to systems, methods, and courses.

Special Courses for G. W. U. Students.

THE DRILLERY, 1100 New York Avenue.

FRANK FULLER, A. B., G. W. U., Principal.

Gov. McCreary promised to attend church for four consecutive Sundays, as did the members of the Suffrage Executive Committee. A picture of Gov. McCreary was caught as he smilingly promised with hand raised to go to church.

Mr. Keats and Mr. Nichols left Pittsburg, July 25, in a seventeen-foot canoe, intending to visit every place of any importance between Pittsburg and New Orleans, in the interest of the cause which they espoused. They expect to arrive at New Orleans some time in November.

The exact time for the National "Go-to-Church-Sunday" has not yet been set, but it probably will be the second Sunday before Easter.

In the course of their trip the two young men have visited about forty towns and cities, and have spoken in all sorts of places, including moving picture shows, dance halls, and on street corners. In that time they have secured the promise of about 10,000 persons to attend church for four consecutive Sundays.

Today the young men will speak to the public at the State Fair grounds. They will also undertake the formation of a committee of local business and professional men to carry on locally the work for the National "Go-to-Church-Sunday," which they will start.

Both Mr. Keats and Mr. Nichols are former newspapermen, and at different times have worked on the Times, Post and the Herald, of Washington. On the present trip they are representing the Pittsburg Sun, and in this way they are financing their trip. They are asking for no contributions of any sort.

ARCHITECTURAL

Yearly Publication of the Architectural Club is Given to the Public.

The Architectural Annual for 1914, published by the members of the Architectural Club of the University, came out recently and was distributed among the leading architects of the country as well as among prospective students of the University in courses of Architecture. These annuals have also been placed in the most prominent universities.

The annual is very attractive in form, being profusely illustrated with the productions of the students. The designs and plans, together with the water color paintings, are, both in idea and execution, of a superior type and worthy of the best architects. A brief resume of the course together with a list of the members of the faculty teaching in the Course in Architecture was included in the book.

The committee on year-book was composed of Professors A. L. Harris and Bedford Brown for the faculty, and L. H. Freemire and C. F. Carpenter for the students. The following men have drawings or designs illustrated in the book: B. H. Harris, R. W. Craton, A. P. Starr, R. S. Hart, J. A. Weber, H. F. Almon, C. F. Carpenter, C. R. Caffrey, William Nichol, Carrington Foster, Harry Bennett, J. L. Keister, M. W. Offutt, T. J. Munson, I. W. Hall, C. MacMurray, W. B. Cash, R. K. Galbraith, and W. A. DeVaughn.

WITH THE GREEKS.

A very successful smoker was held at the Kappa Sigma Chapter House, 1100 Vermont Avenue, last Saturday evening, October 10th. About twenty of the new men attended, representing all departments of the School. Dean Fraser, of the Law School, was also a guest of the Chapter, and addressed them upon the subject of fraternal relationships. Music was given throughout the evening by members of the Chapter.

A second smoker was given Wednesday, October 14th, which was well attended by new men. The Chapter announces the pledging of Mr. Bryant of the Law School.

The Psi Omega Dental Fraternity recently held its first meeting of the season at its room in the Pythian Temple. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Alpha Beta Phi has held so far two very enjoyable smokers this year. The first of these was on Wednesday, October 7. A very pleasing musical program was the feature of the evening's entertainment.

The second was on Saturday, October 10. Professor Dougherty was present, together with a large number of visitors. The orchestra of stringed instruments was kept busy the whole evening supplying music for the dancers and singers. The function was very enjoyable all around. An event of great interest was an account by Mr. Huykes of the United States Navy, entitled "With the Blue-jackets at Vera Cruz, by One who was there."

Alpha Beta Phi announces the pledging of Leslie Getchel and William Brooks. The former is in the Law School and the latter is in the Engineering School.

A series of smokers every Wednesday and Saturday since the opening of school has served to keep things lively at the Theta Delta Chi Chapter House, 1788 Columbia Road.

Theta Delta Chi announces the pledging of the following: Janney Nichols, George Cooper, and Donald Watkins, all of the Department of Arts and Sciences.

Phi Chi entertained its pledges at a smoker, October 9. Drs. Shands, Stout, D. L. Borden, Zimmerman and McCray made informal talks. The musical entertainment was furnished by Messrs. Spedel, Storch, and Kennedy.

The third smoker of the school year will be given October 17.

The house which Delta Tau Delta has recently taken for a home is the one in which Theodore Roosevelt resided while Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

On the evening of October 3, Congressman Borland of Missouri gave a very interesting talk at a smoker and house-warming at the new Delta Tau Delta Chapter House. An enjoyable program of music was rendered, and various stunts contributed to make the evening a most successful one.

On the evening of October 17th an extensive program will be the order at the Chapter House of Delta Tau Delta. Among those who will deliver brief addresses during the evening will be Congressman Padgett of Tennessee, Mr. Bruce Bielaski, Chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, and several other prominent men.

Professor McNemar spent Sunday and Monday in New York.

Dean Wilbur left Washington last Saturday to attend the 150th anniversary of the founding of Brown University at Providence, Rhode Island. He went in the capacity of representative of the George Washington University. He will return in time to be present at his afternoon classes today.

COLLEGE.

The engagement of Miss Luella Field, Columbian College, to Mr. Charles Hamill, Rensselaer, has been announced.

LAW DEPARTMENT NOTES.

There has been some discussion lately, relative to starting an agitation to have the Law Library opened among members of the upper classes for a time at least on Sundays. It has been argued that students working during the day have little opportunity for library work on week days, and that a period on Sunday would give greater opportunity to supplement courses with parallel reading, in text books and Law reviews. Also it is stated, greater opportunity would be given attorneys working on Moot Court cases, to consult reports and do work which it is impossible to accomplish outside of a library. As the greater part of Moot Court work is of this nature, it has been generally found that the one night in the week open to it, is insufficient, the other nights being taken up with the preparation of other arguments as a usual thing.

Several members of the School, gained extra credits during the vacation by work in Summer Law Schools. Among these were William C. Corryell, E. Baker, Baldrige, and John M. Jeffries at the University of Chicago and L. W. Springer at Columbia. All reported that the work at George Washington was more difficult than at the schools they attended.

The enrollment continues to gain on the records of last year. At the present date there are seventy more students in attendance than were enrolled at this time last year.

The sympathy of the School is extended to Alexander Robeson and L. D. Beckett, each of whom recently suffered the loss of his father.

The members of the first year morning class, either through timidity or ignorance, refuse to show themselves in the corridors during periods, but remain sitting meekly in their classrooms.

All students of the University who are desirous of engaging in the stock raising business during the next vacation season should consult with Mr. Elton W. Stanley, third year law. Mr. Stanley has made a very important discovery by which a horse may be called a cow and given all the attributes of a cow. Stanley hails from the wild and woolly West and ought to know what he is talking about. Ask him.

Members of the morning classes, all flocked to the Capitol on Tuesday to hear William Travers Jerome attempt to put Harry Thaw back in "durance vile." Sympathy seemed to be divided.

H. T. Shaver, captain of the Varsity basketball team, returned to his home in Portland, Oregon, for the Summer and now declares it grew so during last winter that he thought he had arrived at San Francisco by mistake.

Students in Constitutional Law still persist in confusing the phraseology of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. One of the recent offenders was sentenced to read the Constitution through three times

MEDICAL SCHOOL.

On October 10, Dr. A. R. Shands performed a new operation for chronic synovitis of the knee ("water on the knee"). This operation was first reported at the 65th Annual Session of the American Medical Association by Mr. Edred M. Corner of London, Eng. It is probable that this was the first time the operation has ever been performed in this city.

The Sophomore Class has elected the following officers: President, James E. Houghton; Vice-President, G. D. Dickerson; Secretary Wm. T. Gill, Jr.; Treasurer, Edw. A. Cafritz and Sergeant-at-Arms, John S. McDowell.

Paul S. Putzki, '15, has returned to the school after a summer in Newfoundland.

C. J. Gentzkow, '15, is now employed at Garfield Hospital.

Dick Thompson has given up his medical work for the time being, in order to devote his entire time to the study of dentistry. He expects to resume his medical education after his graduation from Dental School.

DENTAL SCHOOL.

Messrs. Moore and Aspinall have recently become the owners of a valuable motor boat.

The Sophomore Class of the College of Veterinary Medicine held its first meeting of the year on October 6. After a lively ballot, the following elections were announced:

President, H. M. Savage.
Secretary-Treasurer, L. Lawych.
Class Editor, W. H. Wright.
Sergeant-at-arms, W. C. Pulsifer.
President Savage responded with a speech and was loudly applauded by the class.
The class has two new members this year; they are W. C. Pulsifer and William Nichols.
